CT-training for the National Atomic Energy Agency

On February 21, 2022, the Terrorism Prevention Centre of Excellence within its awareness-raising mission conducted a CT-training for the management of the National Atomic Energy Agency (PAA).

The training presented rules of the recommended course of action in case of terrorist incident, including active shooter and hostage situation as well as the threat stemming from the exploitation of explosive devices.

The meeting also delivered insights into the issue of radicalization and attention was also paid to illegal attempts of acquiring sensitive information by terrorist organization. Experts delivered also insights into possible hybrid threats/attacks against the security of Poland.

The training was an element of the educational activity initiated by CPT to raise awareness in particular among authorities of strategic importance from the perspective of energy security in the Republic of Poland.
